Committee Says Taxes at Limit, Demands Economy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The powerful house ways and means committee, in bi-partisan chorus, declared the nation can stand no more taxes and told the administration to cut down spending if it wants to block inflation.

The committee said its second wartime revenue measure, calling for $2,140,000,000 in new taxes, is "on the whole, reasonably to be borne by the taxpayers at this time."

Although the bill in opposition to further taxes, the full committee report hardly went as far as a separate statement by Republicans on the committee who told the administration it must stop the tax demands.

For too long the over-burdened tax payer has been the forgotten man," the Republicans declared. "For too long the tax collector has been 'spend and spend, tax and tax.'"

The time has come," they continued, "when henceforth the administration, instead of insisting upon the tax collector to do his job, should be looking to the elimination of unnecessary and wasteful expenditures."

They said the tax collector would listen to no more treasury pleas for tax money until the government cuts its own spending.

Go to the new tax law, which resembles the revenue producing measure. Secretary Morgenthau said the committee two months ago, would come into the house for consideration next week.

It makes only slight changes in present individual income taxes, abolishes the gift tax, and adds a new tax on the profits of corporations.

The full committee, which sent the bill to the house floor, said the revenue from the committee two months ago, would come into the house for consideration next week.

RAF Bombs Open "War of Nerves"

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A psychological offensive to attract bomb-broken Germany's surrender when allied armies strike in the spring may be launched by President Roosevelt, British Minister of Churchill and Premier Stalin.

In the absence of a confirmation yet of a tri-continental conference of the three United Nations leaders, speculation in London has settled on the possibility of a declaration of principles for the treatment of Germany's defeated cities which would indicate what the future holds for the German people after their war.

Another rumor said German military leaders had taken French and German peace feelers seeking a definition of "unconditional surrender" would mean. One such rumor said German reluctance on the issue was being bolstered by the uncertainty as to the country's future.

JOHNSTON URGES DOMESTIC PEACE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP)—Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said last night that the negotiations of the Moscow pact ignored domestic peace and concentrated on issues upon which they would agree.

Johnston, a possible candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, urged the "four great pillars" of American democracy—management, labor, government and agriculture—to seek common ground on the same basis.

"The nation's most important post-war task, he said, is to map 'areas of agreement' between the four economic factors."

If the effort is undertaken in a spirit of cooperation, he said, "it will appear quickly enough that the common interests are overwhelmingly more important than dissensions."

Unions Here to Stay

"Management must understand that labor unions are here to stay, that we must have lower and lower profit per unit and bigger and bigger volume of sales; that high wages are important; that the cost of production is high level of production; that money is a easy way of doing business."

Labor, he said, must discard policies of restricting production, and must make themselves more democratic and "socially minded."

"Labor must clean up its own house of those abuses which have crept into their organizations," he said.

Economy of Ruin

Johnston urged agriculture to recognize the necessity for lower costs and increased efficiency, and warned that "an economy of security is an economy of ruin."

Government, he said, must understand that it can't increase purchasing power by taking a dollar from somebody and handing it to somebody else.

The individual should be stimulated to his greatest productivity and tax laws should be revised to encourage investment of risk capital, he said.

Sister of Filer Resident Passes

FILER, Nov. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pielstick have received word of the death of Mrs. Ethel Duquesne, his sister, at Glendale, Calif. Mrs. Duquesne, 65, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Shouse. She succumbed from the effects of a stroke suffered last week.

Seven-Ship "Airavan" Takes City, C. of C. Men to Boise

Seven Twin Falls city officials and three representatives of the Twin Falls and Buhl Chambers of Commerce were passengers in seven planes that flew to Boise yesterday for the two-day statewide aviation meeting called by Gov. C. A. Bottolich.

The seven ships took off shortly after 10:30 a. m. from the downtown area, circled downtown Boise upon arriving at the capital city, and then landed at College field about noon, ready to attend the afternoon session which opened the meeting.

Those occupying the seven ships of the "Airavan" with the pilot named first in each case, and listed in the order in which they took off, were: Merrill Shouse and Arnie Osmond; Mack Gray and Councilman W. W. Thomas; John Garrett and City Attorney J. H. Blanford; Dick Love and Fred Harting; Buhl Chamber of Commerce; Glen O. Jenkins, R. S. Toffler and R. S. Hayes.

Most picturesque-appearing of the group were Mack Gray and Councilman Thomas, who occupied Gray's Security-Knight low-wing monoplane, which is an open cockpit ship. The pilot wore a full-lined flying suit, and a comparable park was flanked by Thomas with a helmet, goggles, blanket and a muffler. All the other ships have cabins which may be heated.

One official—City Attorney Blanford—was taking his first plane ride. His takeoff with CAP Commander Garrett, as viewed from the ground, was uneventful.

The group will return to Twin Falls this afternoon, following conclusion of the two-day sessions this morning.

Christmas Gift Chases Soldier All Over World

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—A Christmas package that recently counted a 14-month journey through India, Palestine, Egypt, north Africa and back to America without reaching its intended recipient may be on the move again.

Containing an air mattress, the package was mailed by mail carrier Alfred Cantonwine, Salt Lake City, to his son, M. Sgt. Carl Cantonwine, Sergeant Cantonwine, a bomber engineer, was always just one jump ahead of the present. Now he is in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he has no use for it.

However, the mattress soon may again be on its way, this time for another army sergeant serving in Italy.

United Press radio story on the present's original journey was used in a broadcast by station WHAM, Rochester, N. Y. A listener, Mrs. Adella W. Conklin, Genesee, N. Y., heard the story and, through the radio station, wrote a letter to Cantonwine asking if he would sell the mattress. She said she wanted it for her son who had just recovered from a malaria attack and is now serving in Italy.

On being informed of the letter, Cantonwine said he would communicate with Mrs. Conklin.

MORE WOOL FOR SUITS INDICATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Men's coats and suits with pleats and pocket flaps, and low-priced lines of woolen clothing—both war casualties—may soon be back in the American way of life.

But there may be further restriction on the use of cotton and rayon, including a possible ban on their use in linings.

The war production board, reporting adequate supplies of wool, removed virtually all restrictions on its use and halted the action as a landmark in relaxing war-time controls.

WPA officials said the move should result in:

1. Removing any fears of clothing rationing.
2. Reconsideration of WPA restrictions on men's clothing, including the ban on manufacture of woolen pleated pocket flaps, "noted" vests with double breasted coats, evening clothes and limitation of sleeve and trouser length. Trouser cuffs and patch pockets already have been restored.
3. Return of lower-priced woolen garments, particularly utility-type clothing and children's garments of which there is a serious shortage. When their supplies were limited, manufacturers tended to abandon these lines because of the low profit margins.
4. Increased manufacture of winter of women's wool suits, dresses and coats.

There is little likelihood, however, that restrictions on the manufacture of "furry" in women's clothes will be lifted because the women's clothing order covers hats, coats and rayon as well as wool, fabrics that are more scarce than wool.

Thanksgiving Program For Entire Community

The community Thanksgiving program will be held in the First Methodist church at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 24. Many of the churches of the community, the schools, the Y. W. C. A., the Grange, USO, Boy Scouts, and W. O. W., as well as representatives from many different organizations, will take part in the program.

A large choir made up of members of various churches and under the direction of James C. Reynolds will sing in the congregational singing. A high school chorus directed by Miss Frances Peterson will sing.

Sixteen members will participate in a lighted service.

Rev. Herman C. Rice, pastor of the Baptist church, will give a 10-minute talk on "Thanksgiving in such a Time as This."

Offering will be given to the Children's Home.

Boise, as has been a custom of the local Methodist association for many years.

There will be no Methodist union service on Thursday.

Veterans Conduct Hunt Camp Sale

The Camp Fire group at Hunt sold forget-me-nots at the camp for the disabled. American Legion Post 104, which is for the purpose of assisting disabled veterans, or widows and dependents of war dead.

Rather than selling them on the grounds of the camp, as the girls conducted elsewhere, the girls contacted each home.

"This is a fine job," stated William R. Wolter, chairman of the forget-me-not drive in this area.

Mother Goose Quiz Program for League

An original Mother Goose quiz program was the feature of the Girls League assembly. Various song rhymes were acted out before the audience. Then the competition, selected by one of three girls posted in the audience, rose and attempted to recite the entire rhyme. Dorothy Krenke, as Mother Goose, was mistress of ceremonies.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRISI

Cold weather is coming. Our children are going to need warm clothes and I am hoping that they are going to have it. Expense to every mother is not good for them and none of the fresh-air-cold-air specialists in health can tell me so. I know that when the cold winds of winter come children's legs should be covered with good warm stockings that cover their knees. Yes, I know about those children reared in some northern lands whose knees go bare—I saw some of them once and I have never forgotten their misery. I wanted to buy out a stocking and shoe store in health can tell me so. I know that when the cold winds of winter come children's legs should be covered with good warm stockings that cover their knees. ### SOLON ATTACKS WOMEN VOTERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A tall, quiet Kansas congressman today attacked Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the League of Women Voters for their charges that congressional leaders of the administration subsidy program sought to betray the nation to special interests.

Rep. Clifford E. Hope, R., Kan., said only one special interest—the "people of the United States."

He criticized sharply a statement by the national board of the League of Women Voters that "ruthless" and "corrupt" persons in the refusal of the country are being betrayed by political leaders who yield to the demands of special interests.

Attacks First Lady's Statement

Hope's remarks were construed as a statement that the preferred "government which is controlled by the people" rather than private interests—with the inference that private interests drive the anti-subsidy fight—now drew criticism from House.

Hope said "not add on anti-subsidy" he said. "They are against the common people, and they can be no reason for adding to it the gross blunders of a administration that has lost its way in American history."

Hope said "the people have received little indication that the people favored the subsidy program."

He said the case of Rep. Richard K. Rye, D., who told the House.

Hope said "the people have received little indication that the people favored the subsidy program."

He said the case of Rep. Richard K. Rye, D., who told the House.

Supporters of subsidies told the house that enactment of the bill would force the President to break the anti-inflation line and raise wages and prices. It would allow him to blame congress.

Formal debate on the legislation to ban consumer subsidies closed in the house yesterday. Final consideration will come on Monday. Several modifying amendments will be offered by administration supporters, but with scant hope of passage.

3 ERASE NAMES IN G. O. P. RACE

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Three state governors withdrew their names as Republican presidential possibilities today on the heels of a warning by Wendell L. Willkie that attempts to block pre-convention strength of leading candidates by filling the field with favorite sons would lead to a GOP disaster.

Two of the governors, Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts, and Dwight D. Davis, Nebraska, said they would not permit their names to be entered in their own state presidential primaries as presidential candidates. The third, Earl Warren, California, said circumstances might force him to enter the primary in his own state but he would not be a candidate elsewhere.

The three, in Chicago to attend the general council of the national state governors, made it plain in interviews that they would not seek the nomination.

A fourth presidential candidate, Frank P. Taylor, G. O. P. governor of Ohio, who has announced his active candidacy for the nomination, said he had not decided to enter the party primaries outside his own state particularly the controversial Illinois preferential primary where liberal and conservative elements are expected to test their strength.

It was not clear if it would be as confident of attracting convention strength if offered as a favorite son by his own state delegation.

Punishment was originated in 43 B. C. by Acon, a Greek physician, who burned aromatics in great fires.

Couple Divorced For Second Time

A wife received the second divorce from the same man in district court here Friday.

Mrs. Laura J. Lee won a decree against Garret Lee, whom she married for the second time at Boise July 5, 1940. She charged cruelty. The court awarded her custody of their six-year-old son and approved a property settlement.

Mrs. Laura Lee had won divorce from Vester Henkle, whom she married Sept. 25, 1941 at Hagerman, Idaho, claimed cruelty.

Judge J. W. Porter granted both decrees.

Ship Repair Unit Enlistment Open

Lieut. E. T. Reeder, officer in the navy civil engineering corps, will be in Pocatello Wednesday, Nov. 24, for the purpose of interviewing applicants for enlistment in the ship repair unit, C. A. Evers, recruiter in charge of the Twin Falls station, announced.

"Any men from the Magic Valley area who are interested in this unit are urged to contact Lieut. Reeder at Pocatello, as he will not be coming to Twin Falls. The enlistment has the authority to assign ratings in the ship repair unit."

ONE-DAY VACATION

WENDELL, Nov. 20—Schools in Wendell will be closed on Thanksgiving day only, said Supr. William W. Gering. Christmas vacation will begin on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 22, and end Monday, Jan. 3.

RUMANIA RECALLS ARMY IN RUSSIA

BERN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Highly reliable reports reached here today that Rumania is withdrawing all her troops from Russia under an agreement reached last week at a conference between Adolf Hitler and Gen. Ion Antonescu, Rumanian chief of state.

In exchange for permission to pull out of Russia, Antonescu was understood to have committed Rumania to hand over to Germany large stocks of grain and petroleum which had been earmarked for the Red army.

Antonescu went to Hitler's headquarters to bargain for the privilege of withdrawing from the conflict in the east, for which the Rumanians have shown no stomach, according to advisers described as of "excellent" origin.

The Rumanian evacuation from Russia was understood to be in full swing today. The first of several Rumanian divisions which had been stationed in Russia were reported moving westward, already had arrived at Odessa by the Black Sea after running the dangerous Russian blockade of those waters.

The evacuation report followed British advice of a wholesale flight of Rumanian civilians from the Romanian area toward which the Red army was moving in its Ukrainian drive.

An instant dispatch said panic had broken out in Rumanian financial quarters as a result of Soviet gains, and Rumanian business men were trying to dump their stocks and merchandise in instant.

Even Nip Radio Announcer Says Pun Is "Rotten"

By United Press

The notoriously corny Tokyo radio outfit said today.

In a broadcast describing as "humiliating bluffing" Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox's denials of Japanese claims of heavy American naval losses, a commentator said:

"As one Japanese official put it 'Knox knocked everywhere he can possibly knock, but every time the things he knocks come back to knock Knox'—with apologies for a pretty rotten pun but it's the truth, so help me."

Although supplies for the sheep camp, including sugar, salt, etc., were scattered about the highway—santa's sleigh was not in the half case in the pick-ups trailer.

Elorietta, the driver, became excited when he saw the train barreling down upon their vehicle and "killed" the engine as the train cut the front of the pickup, the men were hurled from the machine. Urie suffered a dislocated shoulder and Elorietta received a gash in the forehead which was closed with three stitches. The men were taken to the Gooding hospital by a passing motorist.
